

Chloe Hannigan

49 Highfield Crescent, Swords, Co. Dublin
083 8765589

chloehannigan98@gmail.com

PROFILE

I am energetic and creative, having attended ballet classes for 6 years, a 1-year art course, and a summer art camp. I came second in a handwriting competition involving all national schools in Dublin. I am hardworking, motivated and dependable, having won best attendance at school 3 years in a row.

Work Experience

La Boulangerie Francaise

2016

Unit 77, Applewood Village, Swords, Co. Dublin

- Apprentice baker making breads, pizzas, croissants, morning pastries, quiche and different types of pastry as part of college work experience.

SuperValu

2017-Present

Pavilions Shopping Centre, Swords, Co. Dublin

- Working as a sales assistant in all areas of the shop but based in the bakery department.
- Serving and dealing with customers on a daily basis.
- Working in a team-based environment but also having to work independently.
- Having to meet deadlines.
- Problem solving if there is an issue.
- Fully knife, HACCP and manual handling trained.
- Assisting customers to help them find what they need.
- Maintaining the stores visual standards.
- Keeping up to date with special offers and new products.

EDUCATION

Professional Cookery

2016

Coláiste Íde

- Level 5 PLC in culinary arts
- Topics included nutrition, culinary technique, menu planning.
- Practical assessments in the kitchen and for meal service to customers.

Leaving Certificate

2016

220 Points

Results:	Home Economics	(H)	B3
	French	(O)	C1
	Irish	(O)	C2
	Biology	(O)	C2
	Maths	(O)	D1
	English	(H)	D2
	Business	(H)	E

ACHIEVEMENTS

- Won best attendance in school 3 years in a row.
- Won second prize in all-Dublin national school handwriting competition (2009)
- I passed the mystery shopper in Supervalu and got 100%.
- I have always been on time to work and have never clocked in late.
- I have never called in sick to work.

REFERENCES

Mr. Peter Macnamara
Principal
Loreto College Swords

Mr. Damian Cusack
La Boulangerie Française
Unit 77
Applewood Village
Swords